A Letter From Archbishop Etienne

Sole Member, Fulcrum Foundation

When I think about the Fulcrum Foundation, I find myself coming back to a simple statement: the Church exists for mission. Fulcrum is the embodiment of this idea. The foundation’s programs actively engage in the mission of the Church by supporting Catholic schools and the families who rely on them.

With all that is going on in our world, it can be difficult to live our faith each and every day. By choosing to support Fulcrum’s work, you are uplifting students and allowing them to receive the blessing of a faith-filled education. You are helping Catholic schools grow and thrive, so that they may continue to serve their communities.

The past several years have not been easy. We face immediate and long-term challenges that call us to move beyond the familiar and the comfortable. But these challenges also provide an opportunity for us to grow in our life in Jesus Christ, to accompany one another on the journey of faith, and to live the joy of the Gospel each day.

Thank you for making the choice to support the mission of the Church, especially Catholic education, through Fulcrum. Our compassion and our love for one another are our strongest gifts, and it is a privilege to be a part of a community that gives these gifts so freely.

In the heart of Christ,

Archbishop of Seattle

A Letter From Our Leadership

Dear Friends of Fulcrum,

Wow! This year, Fulcrum celebrated its 20-year anniversary! It’s almost hard to believe how much we have accomplished together during that time. We increased access to Catholic education for families who needed it most, we strengthened and supported leaders in and out of the classroom, and we helped Catholic schools keep their doors open through difficult times.

Saying thank you does not even begin to express the gratitude in our hearts for everyone who has been a part of this incredible journey. The dedication and commitment of our Catholic community has been nothing short of remarkable and it has been an absolute honor to partner in this life-changing work with you.

Many of our supporters have been with us since the very beginning and invested time, talent, and treasure to get Fulcrum off the ground. Others then joined to carry the new mission forward while shaping and molding our programs to what they are now. Our donors believed in our work, and time and time again said yes. Each of you is part of Fulcrum’s success—YOU are the reason this work is possible. Congratulations to all on this milestone anniversary!

Pivoting to this year, the outpouring of love and support for Catholic education continued to inspire. We saw record-breaking fundraising at the 20th Anniversary Celebration of Light at T-Mobile Park and an astonishing $87.4 million total for the close of the seven-year Uplift capital campaign. We also saw moments of transformational giving from donors like Dick Abrams and Ty Scheumann, whose belief that the power of Catholic education changes lives will impact countless children in the years to come. They, along with all of you, continued our momentum into the future. What an amazing ride it was!

As Fulcrum’s board wraps up its two-year strategic planning effort this fall, our focus is now on the future and dreaming about what Fulcrum can accomplish in the next 20 years. We know that there is more work to be done, that there are still more children and families who need our help to receive the gift of a Catholic education. We are ready to accept this challenge. We know that with the strength of this faith-filled community behind us, Fulcrum will rise to greet whatever opportunities come our way. Thank you for walking with us and for all you have done to get us here.

God Bless,

Tony Audino, Chair of the Board

Vivian K. Shannon, Executive Director
Our New Mission

After almost two years of dedicated review, Fulcrum unveiled its new vision, mission, and value statements, defining how the foundation will launch itself into the future.

“Fulcrum must actively do more to make sure we know who we are and what we are working to accomplish, meeting the emerging needs of all children and families in Catholic schools,” said Tony Audino, chair of the board.

The Fulcrum Board of Trustees and Fulcrum staff worked closely with Archbishop Paul D. Etienne to keep the foundation’s stated values in line with the important work being done in the Archdiocese of Seattle.

“As we approached Fulcrum’s 20th anniversary, the board knew it was time to implement a review of Fulcrum’s programs to ensure that we were staying true to our core values,” said Vivian Shannon, executive director.

“After a lot of thoughtful and deliberate conversation, we decided to change our mission and vision statements to more accurately reflect our purpose in the community. The new vision and mission will help guide Fulcrum’s programs into the next twenty years of giving.”

Fulcrum continued the strategic planning process with an in-depth review of all programs run by the organization. The intentional process ensures that Fulcrum’s programs are serving the Catholic school community in the most impactful way possible.

“Ever since our founding, Fulcrum’s purpose has been to serve,” Vivian said. “The needs of our Catholic schools grow and change each year and Fulcrum needs to be ready to meet those changing needs. We are humbled by the responsibility we hold to the community and will do everything in our power to help those who need it most.”

Vision

Guided by Catholic values and beliefs, we envision a world where vibrant and innovative Catholic schools offer hope and pursue the common good.

Mission

Fulcrum strengthens the vitality, excellence, and sustainability of Catholic schools through funding and thought partnership.

Values

One Human Family

- Informed by our Catholic faith, we act in communion with all.
- We serve everyone—all races, genders, abilities, cultures, faiths, sexual orientations, and backgrounds.

Justice

- We increase access to Catholic education, especially for those furthest from educational justice.
- Dignity, respect, and belonging are core to everything we do.

Stewardship

- We leverage and grow talent and treasure to ensure Catholic schools thrive into the future.
- We honor our donors and supporters through transparency and integrity.

The Future Starts Now

Early childhood education (ECE) programs in the Archdiocese of Seattle are thriving. In February 2022, Fulcrum announced the creation of the $6.5 million Early Childhood Education Endowment, thanks to the generous donation by Dick Abrams.

This endowment, which will fund the Fulcrum ECE Grant Program, will make a world of difference for the 56 early learning programs in Western Washington.

“We must invest in our youngest students,” said Dick. “The research is indisputable: the biggest educational impact happens with early learners, from birth to age five. It’s my hope that this type of program will spur additional giving and be replicated beyond Western Washington.”

Children who are part of quality early learning programs have better educational outcomes in elementary school and beyond. These programs also fill a critical need for working families who depend on Catholic schools to provide positive educational environments and bring out the best in their young learners.

“This endowment will make a powerful difference in the lives of so many children,” said Vivian Shannon, executive director. “We cannot thank Dick enough for his visionary leadership and full-hearted giving. Together, we will make a better future for many young students in the archdiocese.”

Fulcrum, in partnership with the Office for Catholic Schools (OCS), has already made bold strides in the early education space, thanks to the tireless work of Dave Mayer, the Fulcrum-funded director of early childhood education at OCS.

Over the past year, Fulcrum and OCS have bolstered ECE leadership through collaborative early learning roundtables, licensed program webinars, grant writing, access to college-level courses, facility expansion management, and a virtual professional development day with over 175 ECE leaders participating. Fulcrum’s ECE Grant Program distributed $36,000 in funds to over 30 programs to meet critical needs in curriculum, programmatic supplies, professional development, and small capital improvements.

“I am so proud of all the work our school leaders have done and continue to do,” said Dave. “We are working every day to strengthen our programs and create more access to early childhood education. These programs are making a huge difference in the lives of our youngest students.”
Becraft Scholars Program Puts Community First

The Becraft Scholars Program has flourished in its second year. Becraft is an equity-based, relationship-centered scholarship program that prioritizes students furthest from educational justice, with a focus on Black and African-American children. Becraft partner schools welcomed a new cohort of kindergartners this year. Becraft will support each year’s cohort from kindergarten through 8th grade.

Alana Bell, director of Becraft Scholars, focused on community building and engagement for the Becraft students and families. The program hosted its first annual Becraft Back-to-School Picnic at St. Therese, ran a virtual family engagement event, and organized its first annual Juneteenth Freedom Walk and Picnic at Seward Park.

“Building community is essential to the success of our program, but more importantly, the success of our students,” said Alana. “Every student deserves to feel a true sense of belonging in their community and Becraft Scholars intentionally centers relationship building in all that we do.”

The Becraft Program has been a shining light in the local Catholic community, earning a featured cover story in Northwest Catholic Magazine and a story on the “Rhythm & News” radio show hosted by Chris B. Bennett, the publisher and editor of The Seattle Medium. Alana spread her expertise in building community and belonging at an Office for Catholic Schools professional development workshop and as the keynote speaker at the National House Institute hosted by O’Dea High School.

“As Becraft Scholars continues to grow, I am thrilled to focus my efforts on engaging our partner schools on the necessity of family engagement and partnership throughout the upcoming school year and beyond,” said Alana.
The 20th Anniversary Celebration of Light hit it out of the park! Held at the iconic T-Mobile Park on May 20, the Celebration of Light raised $2.9 million in support of Catholic education thanks to the generosity of Fulcrum supporters.

The event was truly a celebration of all the Fulcrum community accomplished in 20 years. “I want to thank those who came before us. Those who, along with Archbishop Brunett, boldly and intentionally planted the seeds of Fulcrum 20 years ago,” Vivian Shannon, executive director of Fulcrum, told attendees during Celebration of Light. “Those seeds are now blooming and growing into the future.”

Following the fully virtual Celebration of Light in 2021, it was a special privilege to come together in person with friends and family. The joyous evening held many delights, including dinner on the field and performances from the Eastside Catholic marching band.

Fulcrum was proud to honor all archdiocesan teachers, staff, and administrators with the 2022 Archbishop’s Award for their efforts throughout the global pandemic to keep students safe and engaged in learning. All teachers and staff were invited to be there in person to be honored from the club level.

The evening also celebrated another landmark occasion: the completion of the 7-year, Uplift capital campaign, blowing away the original $66 million goal with a record-breaking $87.4 million in gifts.

“Over the last 20 years, Fulcrum has built a strong foundation,” said Vivian. “Now, as we look forward to the next 20 years, we are ready to grow and meet any challenges the future may hold. We could not do this without the support of our incredible Fulcrum community. Thank you for walking with us, for saying yes, for giving with your whole hearts. Together, we will build something incredible.”

20th Anniversary Celebration of Light is a Home Run!

Oh My!
“I just think our teachers are miracle workers. It is so important to celebrate our educators this year because they are at the center of our work. We can’t do it without them. The second year of COVID, I know for a fact that it’s the hardest year they’ve ever had.

Some of our students haven’t been in the school for two years. So you can imagine the challenge of re-teaching all of the routines and all of the things we kind of take for granted, quite honestly. They’re managing so many things. And on top of that, they’re trying to be the creative, faith-filled teachers they’ve always been.

I wish with all my might that every teacher could hear this when I say that we simply can’t be without you. You are so deserving of this award. Thank you. Thank you for everything you’ve done, for the challenge you’ve had. Thank you.” — Kristin Dixon, Superintendent for Catholic Schools

"We have a really strong sense of family and I think all our Catholic schools do. I’m just amazed at the teachers. They just rolled up their sleeves and they just did it. I just kind of see it as a miracle that happened and they were part of that miracle. They just went way beyond the call of duty, because they are true ministers.”

— Dr. Karen Matthews, Principal, St. Michael Catholic School Snohomish

Since the Beginning

As Fulcrum celebrates its 20-year anniversary, we would like to take a moment to recognize the donors who have been with us since the beginning. There are no words to express how grateful we are for their unwavering dedication and support. Thank you for believing in Catholic schools and helping change the lives of so many students.
An Incredible Finish for Uplift

Uplift: The Fulcrum Campaign for Catholic Education finished strong, raising an astonishing $87.4 million in seven years of fundraising for Catholic education in Western Washington.

Tony Audino, chair of the board, and Vivian Shannon, executive director, officially brought the campaign to a close at the 20th Anniversary Celebration of Light at T-Mobile Park.

“It’s a true honor and joy to share this special moment with you as we sunset the campaign we’ve been working on for seven years," Tony said to Celebration of Light attendees. “This comprehensive campaign will fuel the future. It will uplift the families and schools we serve, laying the groundwork for the future of Catholic education in the Archdiocese of Seattle.”

The campaign began in 2015 with the goal of raising $66 million. The campaign’s silent phase from 2015-2020 raised $47 million. The public phase from 2020-2022 raised an additional $40 million.

Uplift was a comprehensive campaign, meaning every dollar donated to Fulcrum was counted toward the fundraising goal. The meteoric success of the campaign would not have been possible without the full-hearted support of Fulcrum’s donors and the leadership of the campaign chairs.

“Working on this campaign, we witnessed firsthand the generosity of our community," said Shawn and Kathie Hoban, campaign co-chairs. “There were so many people who made the Uplift campaign possible and to each and every one of you, we say thank you. Through your gifts, you have opened the door to so many life-changing opportunities for the students and families in our Catholic schools. Thank you for being a part of this with us. We truly could not have done it without you.”

The campaign will fund essential programs like tuition assistance and school partnership grants. It has also funded the creation of new programs like Building Leadership Capacity, the Early Childhood Education Grant Program, and the Bectraft Scholars Program.

“We all have faced many hardships over the past few years,” said Vivian. “There have been many moments where pulling away from us would have been easy. But despite the difficulties and the distance, the Fulcrum community reached out and said yes over and over again. Your generosity is an inspiration and will make all the difference as we lay the groundwork for future generations in Catholic education.”

Custodial School Endowments
The Fulcrum Foundation serves as the custodian for individual school endowments. By combining resources under Fulcrum Foundation investment management, local schools benefit from the advice and services of Fulcrum’s fund manager and enjoy a reduced fund manager’s fee, while retaining discretion to invest their portfolios according to recommended options.

Ty Scheumann
Theiline P. Scheumann donated a record $11.4 million to Fulcrum, living her faith and belief in the value of Catholic schools and the education they provide. Ms. Scheumann had planned to give this extraordinary gift as part of her estate, but decided instead to give the money to Fulcrum during her lifetime. Her donation will be used in part for leadership training, student scholarships, and funding for Fulcrum’s Becraft Scholars Program. Ms. Scheumann passed away shortly after her incredible act of generosity to Fulcrum. She will be lovingly remembered by the greater Catholic school community and by generations of students who will be the beneficiaries of the meaningful gift of a Catholic education.
